Student Comments:

- Everything is on a very long syllabus that is 30 pages long. Every ruberic, every grading, everything. It's nice having it all in one place, but it's also very hard to find anything. I wish it was broken up more so it was easier to find, but everything was clear.

Student Comments:

- At one point the course became repetative, but the professor did his best to keep things engaging.
- I think discussing Chinese and US influence in other regions of the world may help us understand the rivalry better.

- Instructions for assignments and course material was hidden in different places of google drive files rather than being available through Canvas.
- The readings were interesting, and I liked how we had to present the readings ourselves.
